

Generational Difference or Just Different Generations?

Tues, April 22, 2014
Fairmont Hot Springs Resort
9:00 am - 11:30 am

Discussions and debates about the generational differences in the workplace have been a “water cooler” topic for many years. In the workplace today, you often see four generations working side by side. When you dig a little deeper you hear the frustrations between the generations as we navigate a world of work where change is constant and technology is prevalent. Learning to understand and appreciate others is necessary in a world where relationships and technology often clash. There may be more similarities than differences in the generations but stepping back to explore how we relate to this topic can help us be more effective in our work.

- Understand the different generational groups
- Explore what drives and engages the different generations
- Learn ways to blend the generations together in the work environment.

Who Should Attend: Business Owners, Managers, Supervisors, Team Leaders, Personnel Staff

Presented by Mark Willmarth of Vision West Inc.

Mark has over 20 years of experience presenting and facilitating groups on topics of personality types, emotional intelligence, generational differences, strategic planning, interviewing, leadership, and team building to name a few. He has a bachelor's degree in Human Resource Management and master's degree in College Student Personnel.
